Other metrics for Tennis success?

- Prize Money won
- # of players in the top 100
- # of consecutive weeks a player holds top rankings
- Player rankings are based only on how deep a player goes into a tournament (it does not take into account the quality of opponents defeated)

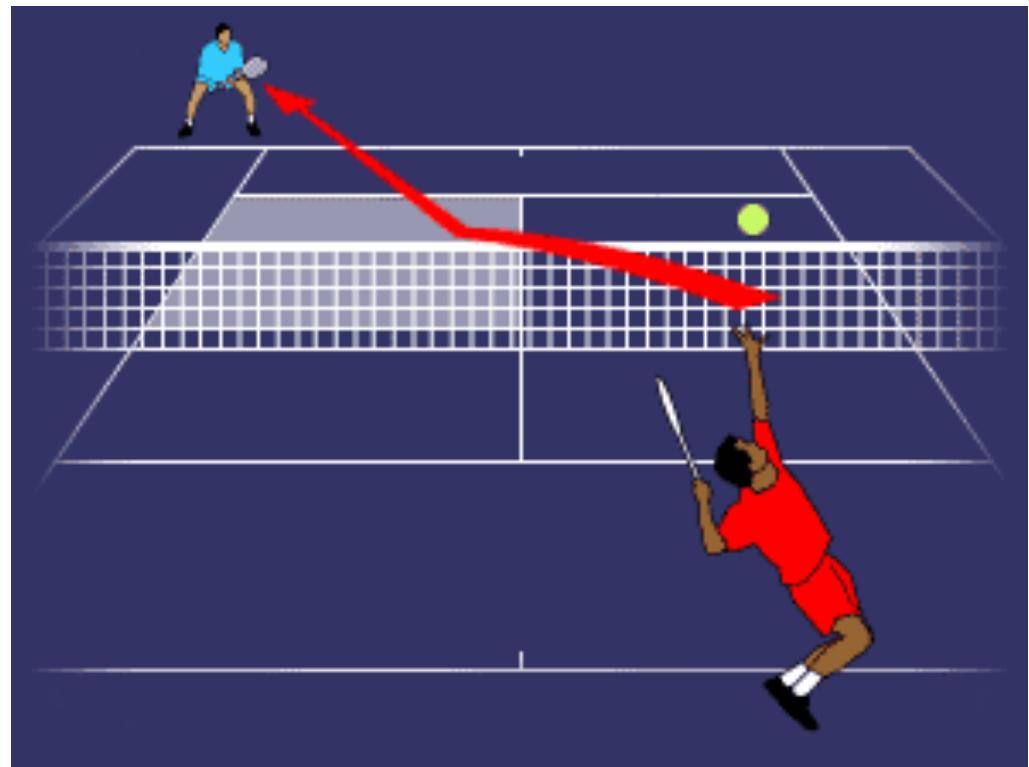

Serving Strategies in Tennis

- 70% of all points are won in 4 shots or less
- Belief: Tennis players who have an outstanding first serve, reduce the power and play the second serve safe.
- Players sacrifice power for more consistency and accuracy

Tennis Serving Rules

- Server has only two opportunities to serve legally
- The serve must pass over the net and hit the service court that is diagonally opposite the server
- Serving faults: Foot faults (feet must be behind baseline)
- Let serves:
 1. The served ball touches the net, and lands in the correct court
 2. The ball is served when the receiver is not ready
- When it is a let serve, that particular serve does not count and the server shall serve again

Other Tennis Questions

- Calculate success points won on 1st serve compared to 2nd serve
- Calculate length of rally of points on 1st serve compared to 2nd serve
- Somehow incorporate depth of serve into a compound statistic with serve speed. A metric that describes a “good serve” should take into account placement and speed (good placement can throw players off balance)
- Is there a hidden “shift” tactic that a receiver can abuse?
- Estimate career age curves (project player careers)
